YE ARBOOK OF 1958
W.H.S. WESTON MASSACHUSETTS

"All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players."

As You Like It

As we sat in our senior English Class, pondering not on Shakespeare and London, but on our own future, we slowly began to realize that these words written hundreds of years ago, might have some personal meaning. Couldn't we perhaps parallel our year's work with a production of a play; the teachers with the directors, the students with the actors, our activities and sports with special features, working toward graduation, our opening night...

The credits for the various parts of this production are indicated below.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION — dedication 3
SPONSORS — school committee, P.T.A. 4
PRODUCERS — administration 4
DIRECTORS — faculty 4- 9
FORMER STARS — alumni 10-11
UNDERSTUDIES — underclassmen 12-21

MISS HELEN B. GREEN

In the production of a play as well as in any other job, there is often one person who has devoted much more time than anyone else to its perfection. And so it is with our play, the drama of the senior class of Weston High. With a splendid record of forty-seven years of teaching service, forty-two of which have been spent at Weston, Miss Green has been an active leader both to students and to faculty. A graduate of Boston University, where she received her Bachelor's degree, she also studied at Clark University, University of Connecticut, and Wellesley College. Before coming here she taught in Maine, Worcester, Plainfield and Gardner for a period of five years. In 1916 she began her busy career at Weston High School. Besides teaching German, English, Algebra, Geometry and Trigonometry, she was for awhile head of the English department. She is the present faculty advisor to the Senior Class and to the yearbook staff. The Math Club was organized under her leadership and she has been its advisor for the last seven years. The creative work of this club has attracted state and national attention and she has been invited to bring displays to national conventions. Miss Green has been active in the Merit Salary Study conducted by the New England School Development Council and run by Harvard University. Last year she was given the Elizabeth Thompson Award for the most outstanding teacher of Mathematics by the Academy of Arts and Sciences. We, the Class of 1958, feel that someone who has worked so long and fruitfully should have a special gift. We dedicate our yearbook to you who deserve so many more thanks than can be put on a page, Miss Helen B. Green.

The faculty combines hard work and infinite

What would we do without these busy gentlemen around the school? Dean Proctor spends the majority of his time carrying out his duties as Director of Athletics. Principal Mueller handles conduct problems plus his major duties, and still manages to speak to seniors. Before school Vice Principal Teittinen's office is besieged by students wanting to see him about attendance problems.

Although Dr. Brackett's time consuming job as Superintendent of Schools keeps him almost constantly engaged, he still manages to show his interest in the students by attending the football, basketball and field hockey games, and innumerable other school events. This interest is deeply appreciated by all the students.

Dr. Anthony Brackett

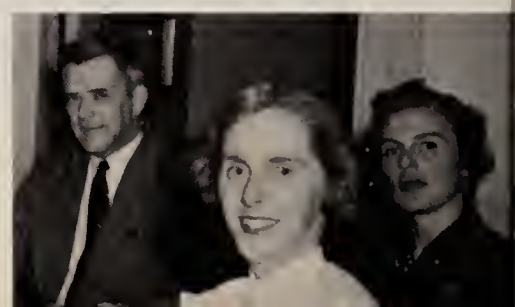
Mrs. Helene Minsky, always so helpful, finds that seniors and college applications involve much work on her part along with all her other secretarial duties.

Miss Frances Howell is a familiar face to many in the school who knew her as a student. Her cheerful smile adds to the pleasant atmosphere of the office.

LEFT TO RIGHT: Mr. Brooks; Mr. Bayles; Mr. Burns.

The School Board spends many hours in Dr. Brackett's office where they meet to solve the problems concerning the school. The P.T.A. supports the decisions made by the school board, and carries out a program of meetings during the year. P.T.A. officers are: Pres. Mr. Harnish; V. Pres. Mr. Bartel; Sec. Mrs. Greenlie, Mrs. Shaw; Treas. Mrs. Petri.

LEFT TO RIGHT: Dr. Brackett; Mrs. Weaver; Mrs. Crawford.



The Guidance Department becomes tremendously busy during the first weeks of September counseling the new students and talking over program changes. Mr. Medford and Miss Hunter expertly solve eighth grade difficulties. Mr. Carini counsels all of the freshmen and sophomores and the junior boys, and Mr. Cummings advises junior girls and all of the seniors on their college problems. Aptitude testing programs are arranged by this department.

The students in Mr. Mitchell's senior English class rapidly take notes on Chaucer. The senior English students work extensively on literature and vocabulary although grammar and the essentials of writing are also dealt with. Mr. Mitchell's English class will be remembered by his students, who have appreciated his humor and understanding.

THE ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

The eighth grade classes taught by Miss McDonough and Mrs. Lenrow divide their time between studying literature such as "Snowbound" and "Evangeline" and working on grammar and spelling. They also do written work in class. In Mr. Mitchell's and Mrs. Helmreich's classes, the pupils work on increasing their vocabularies, reading the assigned books, and find that they are writing compositions every weekend. Mrs. Callahan has small classes of remedial reading in which students increase their rate of reading.

THE LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

The two languages offered in Weston are taken by many college-conscious students. Latin I, which is started in the freshman year, acquaints the students with basic vocabulary and verbs. The second year students become more familiar with Roman culture through the reading of Caesar with Miss Mastin's appreciated help. Latin III and IV are given in alternate years. The French classes are started in the sophomore year to avoid beginning both languages the same year. In two of the French I classes, Miss Heidi lays the foundations of basic French grammar. Mrs. Zamprogno's French II and III classes go on to read French works and students even find themselves speaking in French outside of class!

LEFT TO RIGHT: Mrs. Zamprogno, French; Miss Mostin, Latin; Miss Heidi, French.

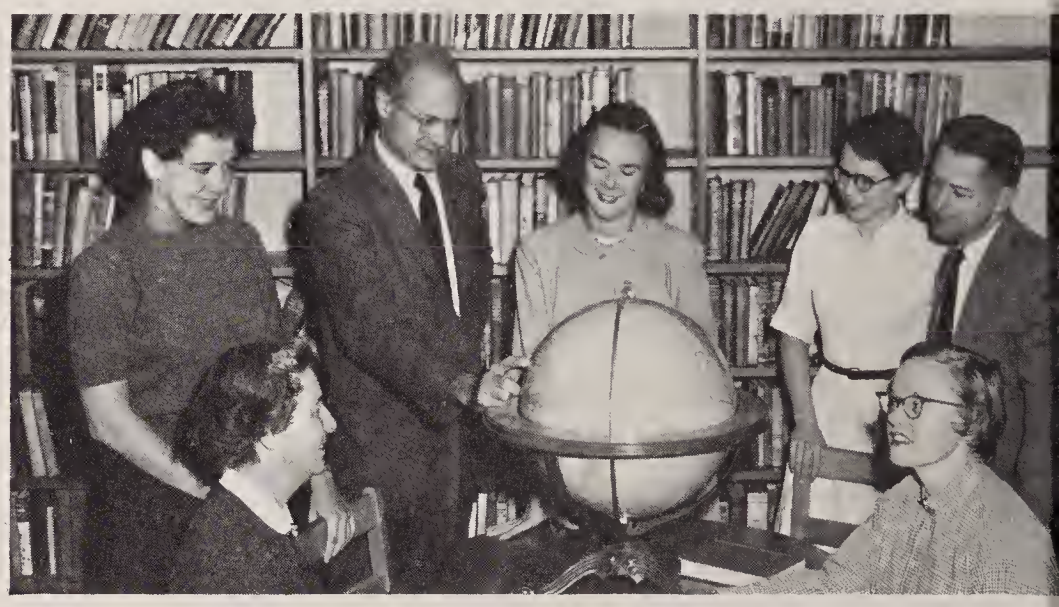
Mr. Morsden, Prac. Phys., Science; Mr. Hom, Biology, Science; Mrs. Mulroy, Science; Mr. Sowyer, Physics, Chemistry.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The Science Department is always busy trying to promote ideas and interest in the Science fair which is successfully put on each spring. Mrs. MULROY handles four eighth grade Science classes, and Mr. HAM teaches a fifth Science class plus the study of the living matter making up our environment in Biology class. There are two Physics courses offered. General Physics taught by Mr. MARSDEN, and College Physics, a suggested course for those going on to technical schools, taught by Mr. SAWYER.

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

Four new teachers were added to the Social Studies department this year. Miss HEIDI teaches a course selecting important events in World History, Mr. ST. JOHN'S classes cover U.S. History, the Constitution, and current events, Mrs. LENROW'S classes work with maps and charts of the geography of countries, and Mrs. HELMREICH also teaches the foundations of U.S. History. Miss McDONOUGH continues her teaching on South America and other neighboring countries. Both Miss HUNTER and Mr. MEDFORD have the eighth grade Human Relation classes where social problems are discussed. By the time one graduates from Weston, he has a firm understanding of the Social Studies.



Miss Hunter, Hum. Rel., S. Studies; Miss Heidi, W. History; Mr. St. John, W. Geog., M. Prob., U.S. History; Miss McDonough, S. Studies; Mrs. Lenrow, Geog., S. Studies; Mr. Medford, Hum. Rel.; Mrs. Helmreich, U.S. History.

SPEECH

Speech is quickly becoming an important part of the school curriculum. Mr. ZORN, who is known as the Director of Speech, plans a new program making "Speech" compulsory for all Juniors. At present he also teaches some English classes and a new English workshop class where grammar problems are worked on extensively. In the Speech Arts class, the pupils learn the technique of public speaking and correct enunciation.

During the senior Modern Problems class we find ourselves discussing such subjects as Communism, civil rights, crime, economics and the current news articles of a controversial nature. Here Mr. CUMMINGS and Marcel Megal speak of France.

COMMERCIAL COURSE

The Commercial course prepares a student for a job immediately after graduation. In the ninth grade a half year of personal typing is given to acquaint all students with the typewriter and its uses. The girls trained by Mrs. HOYLE turn out to be excellent typists.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT

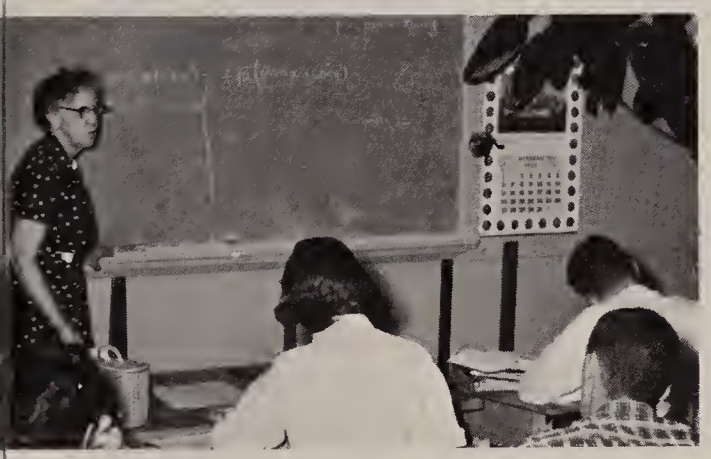
To the boys not taking a complete college course the shop offers much. There are numerous tools with which the boys may work. Mr. HALE, a newcomer to Weston, includes metals and automotives in his course; Mr. MARSDEN, also a newcomer, is seen working with the boys on electrical devices and models; and Mr. TEITTINEN teaches both girls and boys the fundamentals of technical drawing right up to specialized architectual drawing. As one can see by the friendly smiles, the shop always has a pleasant atmosphere, where pupils can learn technical and industrial skills.

Mr. Marsden, Basic Elec.; Mr. Teittinen, M.D.; Mr. Hale, I. Arts.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

Mr. Kellett, Algebra, Plane Geam.; Miss Green, Solid and Anal. Geam., Trig. and Math. Anal., Algebra; Mrs. Ellswarth, Algebra, Arith.; Mr. Carini, Basic Math.

Basic Mathematics is very important to every student, but to those going on to college, math becomes even more important. Mrs. ELLSWORTH has the job of first acquainting the students with freshman Algebra and the numerous equations one meets. During the sophomore year Plane Geom. is taught by Mr. KELLETT who familiarizes the students with the many triangles and squares. After having this background math. one takes Algebra II in the junior year, and then Miss GREEN puts on the finishing touches of the math courses during Trigonometry, and Solid and Analytical Geometry classes. Mr. CARINI teaches the refresher Basic Math class for seniors.



Everyone concentrates during Trig. class. Seniors work on theory and transformation of equations, calculus, vector analysis and review all previous work. The Solid and Anal. Geometry class, which prepares students for scientific schools, discusses problems in detail.

LIBRARIAN

Mrs. HYNSON, our librarian, always makes sure that the books are in good order. She is especially helpful to the juniors when preparing career books with the use of the many vocational pamphlets that are found in the library, and is also a great help to the seniors during Sears essay time.

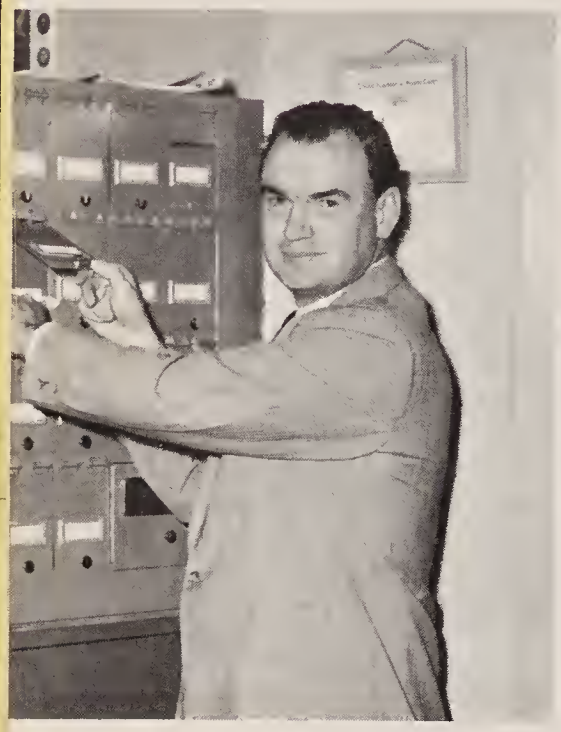
HOME ECONOMICS

Miss COBB helps the seventh grade plunge right into cooking lessons and health habits. The next year they find themselves learning to sew. The seniors are able to take Education for Family Life where they discuss home problems.

Miss Olliff, Art

For seventh and eighth grade students Art is a required subject, but it becomes an elective for high school students. Miss Olliff, with her many original ideas makes Art a challenging subject for creative students. The juniors always welcome her ideas for prom decorations.

Senior Art students may pursue a particular field of self-interest in which to complete individual art projects. Much of the work during the senior year is done individually or in helping other school organizations by drawing posters. The two seniors above are comparing ideas for some yearbook sketches.



Mr. Corley, Director of Music

Mr. Corley's crowded music schedule keeps him running from one school to another. The results, which are apparent at the seasonal concerts, reveal the enthusiasm with which he works.

Many members of the band, orchestra, and choir participate in all three groups, thus making the membership of each group larger than one would expect in a school the size of Weston. Every year an increasing number of students display their musical interests by joining one of the groups.

Miss Allen, Music

During Miss Allen's music classes the pupils learn not only to sing in harmony but also to listen to the recordings of folk songs and classical music which exemplify and familiarize them with all types of music.

Mr. Harris, Physical Ed.; Miss Butera, Physical Ed.

Gym classes are attended with much eagerness by Weston pupils. This may be due in part to the relaxation from mental strain, but chiefly to Mr. Harris and Miss Butera, who conduct their classes to include opportunities for many individual abilities.

Here both coaches look at some of the awards won by proficient Weston teams.

Mr. Cronin, Driver Education.

The Driver Education course has been deeply appreciated and welcomed by all. Many students have already received their licenses under the able direction of Mr. Cronin. We sometimes wonder how he can endure the strain and frustrations of the beginning drivers.

The seventh grade building is separate from the high school. Therefore we seldom see our former teachers, except at outside events or at times when they are accompanying a group of students to the cooking and shop classes which are held at the high school.

Under the competent administrative work of Mr. DeRusha, whom we remember when thinking of "the forest primeval," the seventh grade teachers prepare the students for their high school careers. Miss Marble gives early preparations for learning to write papers through science notebooks, and Mrs. Howe's English classes and grammar lessons are put to immediate use. Miss Stiles and Mrs. Foley assign the usual amount of homework which seventh grade students must become accustomed to, whether it be reading in geography books or solving arithmetic problems. The seventh graders are also fortunate in having Mr. Anderson and Mr. Harvey both interns from Harvard, each teaching for one semester. It is the first year that an internship such as this has been in practice at Weston.

Mrs. Foote, Mrs. Jacques, Mrs. Reilly. NOT SHOWN: Mrs. Burke.

We are grateful that there are such efficient women in the cafeteria. Mrs. Foote, Mrs. Jacques, Mrs. Reilly, and Mrs. Burke manage to keep to the lunch lines passing along smoothly so that no one has to hurry his meal as the result of being last in line.

SITTING: Mrs. Howe, Arith., Eng.; Miss Stiles, Geog. STANDING: Mr. Anderson, Sci., Geog.; Miss Marble, Sci.; Mrs. Foley, Arith.; Mr. DeRusha, Eng., Admin.

Mr. Merrill; Mr. Macleod; Mr. Clarke.

These three gentlemen, Mr. Merrill, Mr. Macleod, and Mr. Clarke, who keep the school so shiny and clean, are always prepared with a smile and a friendly "hello" for everyone. Many thanks are due them for their help, especially in preparations for school dances.

Alumni, seasoned actors, have already

We have noticed that the alumni of Weston High do not always lose contact with the school, for they are seen in attendance at our sporting events, musical programs, and other activities put on by the school. This interest makes clear that the alumni are an important part of Weston High.

Here we have presented the members of the graduating class of 1957 so that you may follow their present activities. On the opposite page we have chosen two outstanding alumni from Weston High School.

JOHN LOUD—CLASS OF 1947

Just eleven years ago in the class of 1947, John Loud, known to his classmates as "Jock" graduated. He was in the top half of his class, maintaining an honor roll record and having the distinction of winning the Sears essay contest in both his junior and senior years. "Jock" was known to be an intelligent, hard-working and compatible person.

After leaving Weston, "Jock" went to Bowdoin College where he majored in music. He graduated from Bowdoin four years later and began a period of three years' service with the United States Army. As part of "Jock's" duty he was sent to a special Army language school in Monterey, California. It was here that "Jock" learned to speak Russian and became interested in a field which was to become his career. His third year in the Army was spent in Austria where he utilized the special language training he had received.

After his discharge, "Jock" went to Harvard College for two years and received his Master's Degree in Soviet Research. From this study he became a specialist in understanding European trouble areas. "Jock" then went to Washington, D.C., where he has been for a year doing government economic research.

Today at the age of twenty-seven, only eleven years after graduating from Weston High School, John Loud is settled in his permanent career, living and keeping bachelor quarters with three other men in Washington, D.C. Although the demands of his career keep him busy, John still finds time to pursue his musical interests and is a member of a string quartet in which he plays the violin.

As seniors we would like to wish "Jock" further success and contentment in his chosen career. We hope that when we are alumni, we also may do our share in helping our country and our communities.

J. SUMNER VILES—CLASS OF 1912

When J. Sumner Viles started his first year in Weston, he attended the Old North School which was formerly located on North Avenue. His first five years of school were spent in a single classroom with one instructor doing the teaching of all five grades. Chief Viles then attended high school classes in the building which is presently used for the seventh grade. During high school the Chief played baseball for three years and in his senior year, he joined the newly organized football team. After school each day Chief Viles would report to the town fire department of which he had become a member at the age of sixteen. In 1912 the Chief graduated from Weston High. He then attended Northeastern University on the co-op plan studying electrical engineering. Throughout his college life he remained a member of the fire department, and while working on the co-op plan, he was employed by the Edison Company. He graduated from Northeastern in 1917.

The Chief then served his time in the Army with the 14th Engineers. In 1919 he was discharged and worked as an automobile mechanic until 1920, when the sole police officer of Weston resigned. Thus, from 1921 until 1923 the Chief was a motorcycle officer and the only person of the police department. As the town and police force grew, he progressed to sergeant in 1923, and then to Chief of police in 1927, and he has remained Chief for thirty years now.

There have been Viles' in the Weston Schools as far back as 1826, when Chief Viles' grandfather was a student. The Chief's sons, Jay and Henry, are the fourth generation of the Viles family to attend Weston Schools.

Chief J. Sumner Viles has been an alumnus of Weston High for forty-six years and has seen many changes in the town and schools. He has done a job which many men could not have handled in the growing town of Weston of which the Viles' are truly a part.

Though young people may have no idea of their future, their individual abilities and interests must be developed and expanded. This will enable them in later years to make a wise choice of career. Seventh graders work energetically on their magazine drive and attend special seventh grade assemblies. Excellent teachers make the introduction to junior high a pleasant experience. Occasional dances form a beginning for social life and our youngest members are enthusiastic supporters of the Weston football, basketball, and baseball games.

Their first year in the high school building, eighth graders become an active part of the student body. Being in the same building as the regular high school, they share assemblies and pep rallies with upperclassmen. Eighth graders raise money for the athletic fund by putting on a magazine drive. They elect their own class officers, take care of classroom displays, and spend time after school doing experiments, such as the testing of weather instruments. They put on their own dance which is the social event of the year for the junior high.

Though they have had something of high school life by being in the building in eighth grade, Freshmen still have a feeling of newness. This is the year of getting a start, of learning the routine and of becoming full fledged high school students. This year marks the beginning of elective courses, which is a big step in the preparation for later life. Some choose a college preparatory course,

The word "Sophomore" comes from two Greek words, "Sophos" meaning wise and "moros" meaning foolish. In some schools, the sophomore year is the first year of high school, but at Weston, students really get into the swing of high school life with a self-confident wisdom gained from last year's experience. Social life starts to pick up speed as sophomores attend the senior sociables, and the class itself puts on the Sophomore Football Dance to top off the football season. They have many chances to bring out individual talents in art, music, and sports, and the prospect of college begins to make an impression.

Juniors find much to do, both scholosticolly and in outside activities. They work on career books, take preliminary college boards and may join musical orgonizations, sports or become cheerleaders. Juniors with high standards of scholostic achievement ore formally inducted into the National Honor Society. This is the year when students may join Discussion Club, and other clubs are open to them also. The Junior Prom highlights the year with its many hours of hard work and gay climox. Juniors, now upperclassmen, find they are allowed more freedom and many responsibilities

The Junior Prom

On the evening of May 10, 1957, the Weston High School Gym was transformed into an exotic Japanese Garden as the setting for the Junior Prom. The oriental mood was set by pink lights, shining through Japanese lanterns, pink-flowered vines, and intricate oriental drawings. A festive silver and black dragon on a pink bamboo curtain was the background for Ken Reeves' Orchestra.

adds a dash of splendor to the school year.

The climax of the night came when the radiant Linda Rudell was crowned Queen of the Prom by the Class President, Kim Cummings, in the stately pagoda, while the members of her court and their partners admired her. All evening the floor was crowded with dancers creating a colorful array of swirling dresses and gorgeous flowers. All who attended agreed that the Junior Prom of 1957 was the greatest success ever.

Council members work unseen; the Honor Society applauds merit.

Seniors and Juniors who excel in character, service, scholarship, and leadership are chosen to become members of the Carl T. Rhoades Chapter of the National Honor Society. Sophomores may become probationary members, and, if their standing is maintained, they become full members in their junior year. To be eligible for membership a student must have a certain percentage average in his grades depending on his year in school, the minimum grade being 90 in the sophomore year, 87½ in the junior year, and 85 in the senior year.

As the elected representatives of the school, the Student Council serves as a link between the faculty and the student body. This year the Council had a very profitable program. Through its efforts, the Wildcat mascot was chosen, more dances were held during the school year, and a package was sent to "Care." The Council worked to have the Field Day scoring changed, so that the boys and girls scores were combined to produce a class winner whose numerals were engraved on a plaque in order to promote more class spirit and grade competition.

Those on the Student Council are: SEATED: G. Nickerson, president; S. Herrick, treasurer; D. White, secretary; J. Robbins, vice-president; L. Rydell, K. Each year there is a large group of prospective broadcasters and technicians eager to try out for the Announcer's Club. Those who become members gain valuable experience in public speaking and in the technical side of broadcasting under the expert direction of Mr. John W. Zorn.

THE TECHNICIANS ARE: F. Crawford, S. Scorgie, J. Proctor, T. Laffin, P. Pinel, D. Grapes, D. Wigginton. SEATED: J. Garabedian.

Interested students work in broadcasting and charity.

Each school day is begun with the Bible reading and morning announcements which are given via the public address system by members of the club. This year the Announcer's Club members have also taken over the practice of giving the afternoon announcements just before the close of the school day. An enjoyable and informative field trip to some of the Boston radio and television stations climaxes each year's activities of this school service club.

The Charity Committee was originally formed to conduct fund-raising drives in the school. This year, the School Committee decided not to have such drives. Because of this decision, the main activity of the Charity Committee has been to make a polio innoculation survey of the students of Weston High School. As a result of this survey, those who had not received their shots were urged to get them.

The Discussion Club provides an outlet for those Seniors and Juniors who enjoy a lively debate. With Mr. Cummings, the faculty advisor, to act as the stabilizer, the program included discussions ranging from world affairs to matters concerning personal conduct.

Mr. Cummings, the faculty advisor of the Discussion Club, encourages opinions to be voiced, yet keeps the peace.

Miss Green and Mr. Carini, the officers, and the directors of the Math Club planned a program which included many scintillating activities. Among these were a discussion of the slide rule, a report on French mathematics by Tad Crawford, a field trip to Sylvania, a guest speaker who introduced the members to one of the newest fields in mathematics, symbolic logic, and a neighborhood meeting with clubs from Newton and Brookline.

The Newspaper staff and typists gain technical know-how.

Every month the school is encouraged to buy the school newspaper, "The Smoke Signal." This organization has developed into one of the most promising activities of the school under the constant work and direction of the editor, Ann Donaldson, and the careful advising of Mrs. Helmreich. Through Ann's efforts and the work of her staff, they have produced the most successful periodical the school has ever had with the many pictures, the interesting feature articles, the stimulating editorials, the latest gossip, and the many other special articles the school looks forward to each month.

Student typists, organized in a typing committee, volunteer their secretarial and clerical services to any faculty member who desires it. These girls help with the typing of "The Smoke Signal."

Students get useful experience as library or office assistants.

By working in the office and helping in the library the students' volunteer efforts are not only a substantial help to the school but the work affords an opportunity to gain experience in the practical functioning of the office and library.

The office assistants help the secretaries by collecting the attendance, running errands, and answering the phone.

The library assistants become more familiar with the books by labeling new books, arranging the books on the shelves, and repairing torn magazines.

The language clubs give their members a chance to play with and feel at home in a foreign tongue.

FRENCH CLUB

To have two new clubs formed in the same year, especially in the field of language, is definitely a noteworthy happening in Weston High School. The French Club, which is an outgrowth of the Affiliation Club, was organized to acquaint more people with France and the French people. Part of the year's program was a discussion conducted in French by Tad Crawford and Marcel Megal about Christmas customs in France. Mrs. Zamprogno and Tad Crawford also showed slides of their recent trips to France.

LATIN CLUB

Membership in the Latin Club is open to all those students who have taken Latin II. The program included a play produced by the Latin III class and a discussion with Father Laughlan on the definition of fine arts. From the first parliamentary adoption of the constitution of the club, to the Latin Dinner that will never be forgotten, the Latin Club program was a success.

Students enjoy the harmony and unity of choral singing.

The choir is made up of all those students in grades nine through twelve who have a love of singing. Under the direction of Mr. Corley and with Betty Brackett as the accompanist, the choir sang in the Christmas Assembly and prepared a number of songs for the Spring Concert. This year the choir participated in a new exchange program with the Somerset choir. Each school acted as host to the other on two consecutive Fridays in May. The two choirs sang in a combined chorus as well as each choir performing numbers of its own. Some of the music included the spiritual "Elijah Rock," the Bach chorale "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee," and selections from "Carousel."

Those who have special musical abilities and are able to pass the auditions can participate in either the All State or the New England Orchestra, Band and Chorus.

The organization which shows the greatest improvement with each successive year is the Weston High School Orchestra. This year under the direction of the music supervisor, Mr. Robert Corley, the orchestra practiced music ranging from the classical "March Slav" to lighter contemporary pieces such as "The Way You Look Tonight" by Jerome Kern and "Santa Claus is Coming to Town." With the great variety of music and arrangements, the Weston High School Orchestra is enjoyed by all.

Only diligent practice can produce the combination of straight ranks and harmonious music. But the early morning marching in the freezing weather was forgotten in the enthusiasm the Weston High School Band created during half time at the football games. Besides playing at the Christmas assembly and the spring concert, the band adds its touch to pep rallies, and plays in the Memorial Day Parade.

Talented students combine

An air of suspense and mystery prevailed in the Country Auditorium last December as the Weston High School students successfully produced the classic play of laughter amid corpses, "Arsenic and Old Lace." Countless lonely males succumbed to the potent arsenic, and then were buried in the cellar by a peculiar person who insisted on being called President Theodore Roosevelt. A quaint touch of lunacy characterized the two erratic sisters as they benevolently administered the arsenic to the unsuspecting boarders, and then innocently looked after the affairs of their eccentric family. Jonathan, an escapee from the insane asylum and his friend Dr. Einstein added horror and anxiety to the play, while Jonathan's brother Mortimer and his girl friend, Elaine, contributed the needed dash of romance. Even the Brooklyn cops and twelve stiff corpses got into the act. We all feel that "Arsenic and Old Lace," under the direction of Mr. John W. Zorn, was the best play that Weston High School has ever produced.

Weston and Rombas exchange students and good will.

A few years ago the Affiliation Club was just another activity, but now it means friends. The Class of 1958 welcomed Marcel Megal, an exchange student from Rombas, France, and Harry Crawford who spent last year in France as an exchange student from Weston. Through this program, the individuals, our classes, the towns, and eventually even our countries benefit from the understanding and friendliness which develops among the students in the schools. Our classes become more world-wide, and the small scope of our thought begin to include distant countries since they seem nearer and more real to us through the association with exchange students.

Football keeps the boys in trim

This year our highly spirited football team produced the first winning season for Coach Harris since he took over the coaching job three years ago. Every afternoon saw the boys hard at work perfecting each play through a heavy fog of dust. With the team hard hit by injuries and the flu, Coach Harris and his assistant coaches, Mr. Carini and Mr. Anderson, were constantly shuffling the players from position to position to fill a vacant spot. So thorough was their shifting that almost everyone on the squad could fill in at two or three different slots. The team started off on the right foot by whipping Bedford in the Weston Dust Bowl and then journeying to Bourne to continue their unscored-upon record. A last period rally by Ashland handed the newly named "Wildcats" their first defeat. Still not quite back on the winning trail, the team came from behind late in the game to tie Foxboro. Gaining their stride Weston easily defeated Ipswich, Westwood, and Millbury, but then was stopped by a determined Scituate eleven. Postponed because of the flu until Thanksgiving morning, the Wayland game proved to be the same thriller it always is. Filled with spirit the team played a valiant game, but it just wasn't quite enough to defeat powerful Wayland.

Enthusiasm — skill — sportsmanship —

The whistle is blown, and the J.V. game is started with a "bully."

The past field hockey season was one of the most successful that Weston High School has ever had. Both the varsity and the junior varsity finished the season with a record of seven victories and one tie. Credit is due to Miss Butera, who again coached the girls through another undefeated season. The high interest in this sport is clear when one realizes that one hundred and two girls signed up to play, but limitations forced a cut to thirty-eight. Dottie White, outstanding center forward, was the highest scorer. The defense was abetted by fullbacks Jean Havey and Ann Donaldson. Behind these girls was our dependable goalie, Joan Walker. The fine sportsmanship exhibited by both squads, plus the final record gave to Weston High School a field hockey team of which the entire school is justly proud.

A winning basketball team repays

Under the direction of Coach Carini the 1957-58 basketball team finished the season with a sound nine and five record. lacking experience, the team dropped its first game but then bounced back to win the next seven. The high point of this streak was the defeat of Wayland. Trailing by eleven points at half-time, the "Wildcats" rebounded in the final half to win the most gratifying and exciting game of the season. Going into the final game against Lincoln-Sudbury, needing a victory to enter the Tech Tourney, the team played valiantly but could not score enough points and so was eliminated.

For the first time the Junior Varsity practiced at a different time from the varsity and had a faculty member, Mr. Anderson, as coach. With only three juniors on the squad, the J. V. had little experience. This hampered their play and was reflected in their season's record.

Once again the varsity squad displayed their enthusiasm and skill by winning nine out of its eleven games. The record of the junior varsity gives evidence that in the future Weston will continue to produce successful teams. Miss Butera, who coached the girls for many hours, should be congratulated for the fine results achieved. The home game with Regional in which Weston was victorious provided the most demanding challenge. Joan Walker's consistent success from the foul line and the excellent guarding of Celia Melone aided Weston in this hard-earned victory.

Thanks to Joan Walker "the score goes up another notch."

Miss Butera gives the girls some last minute instructions.

Topper Bulkley at bat.

The Weston baseball team ended the 1957 season with a record of five wins and four losses. The team finished second in the Dual-County league losing only two decisions in six starts. Both defeats were to Wayland.

Topper Bulkley (.346), Jim Robbins (.333), and Ken Healey (.308), were the standouts with the bat. On the pitcher's mound Eliot Lappen, Ken Healey, and Jim Robbins carried the bulk of the work. The whole team displayed good spirit and showed a strong desire to win to the final out of the season.

adroit pitchers and sure fielders

The girls' softball team of 1957 finished school with a successful season, winning five of their six scheduled games. Much credit for this good showing must go to Nancy White of the class of '57, whom the girls elected captain of the squad. Leading the batting line-up, catcher Dottie White was one of the outstanding hitters. Carolyn Mason pitched very well throughout the season. In the last game, with Lincoln-Sudbury Regional, she saved the game in the last of the ninth inning to give Weston another victory. Joan Walker and Ellie Tomlinson each did an excellent job in the outfield. The scores of the two games with arch-rival Wayland show how well the girls worked together to produce a winning team.

THE CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM: V. Hooglond, Bedford, J. Lombord, Bedford, D. Tiffany, E. Hoagland, K. Stane, G. Fowler, J. Harnish, Bedford, Capt. H. Crawford, Bedford, S. Greene, R. Elliston, L. Rydell, Bedford, R. Langenbach, C. Janeway, L. Wells. NOT SHOWN: B. Lehne, Mgr. T. Kelly, Coach Proctor.

Led by Josh Lombard and Reed Langenback the cross-country team won the first meet in its history over a determined Bedford team. In league competition the team was unsuccessful against the larger schools losing to Everett Vocational, Woburn, Stoneham and Lexington. In the combined league meet at Tufts the team pulled off an upset by finishing second in the Junior Varsity and Small Schools Division. Reed finished fourteenth and Josh nineteenth in the field of one hundred-fifty runners.

In the annual Eastern Massachusetts Tournament at Franklin Park the team copped sixth place in Class D out of a field of seventeen teams. In a drizzling rain Reed again was tops for Weston finishing twenty-fourth and captain Tad Crawford was twenty-eighth.

Tod Crowford strains for the finish.

As interest in golf grows in the school, the golf team gains in importance. Last spring for the first time the team entered a league. Led by the driving play of Jim Rote, the team captured four victories, tied two matches and lost three others. Two of these triumphs were over Ashland by shut-out scores, and the other wins were at the expense of Northboro and Southboro. With the whole team expected to return, this year should also produce a fine record.

THE GOLF TEAM: Mr. Hill, N. Hubbard, J. Crowe, J. Perry, J. Rote, P. Mueller, L. Farman.

Ann Donaldson adds another point to the Weston score.

The spring of 1957 was a successful year for girls' tennis. From the large turnout of girls Miss Butera was able to select a squad of twenty promising players. The girls became not only good players, but they also had outstanding spirit and sportsmanship. All of these qualities were needed in the five matches they played. They lost to Wellesley, but under the leadership of Frannie Tyng, '57, and Miss Butera, they rebounded to win over Westwood, Concord, and Natick, and the girls ended the season in a tie with Walpole.

GIRLS' AND BOYS' TENNIS

In Weston's expanding sports program the tennis team has become a source of pride to our school. Last spring the boys' team had its most successful season. In its first five matches the team was undefeated. The vanquished teams were Westwood and Lexington twice, and Newton J.V. In its last matches with larger schools, the team tied Wellesley and lost to Belmont in a close contest. The team was sparked by John Wyman who was runner-up in the Massachusetts Secondary Schools Tournament. With the loss of only one senior, Coach Proctor hopes for as successful a season next year.

On Saturday, February 8, 1958, Weston High School was proud to play host to the convention of the Science Clubs of Eastern Massachusetts. This convention was attended by guests from many schools representing the Eastern half of the state. Although bad weather made it impossible for some groups to come, there were still many present for whom this event provided an unforgettable experience.

The high point of the convention was a talk given by Dr. J. Allen Hynek, international famous scientist and associate Director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory on satellites and their operation. Slides were shown in color, giving the structure and use of these missiles.

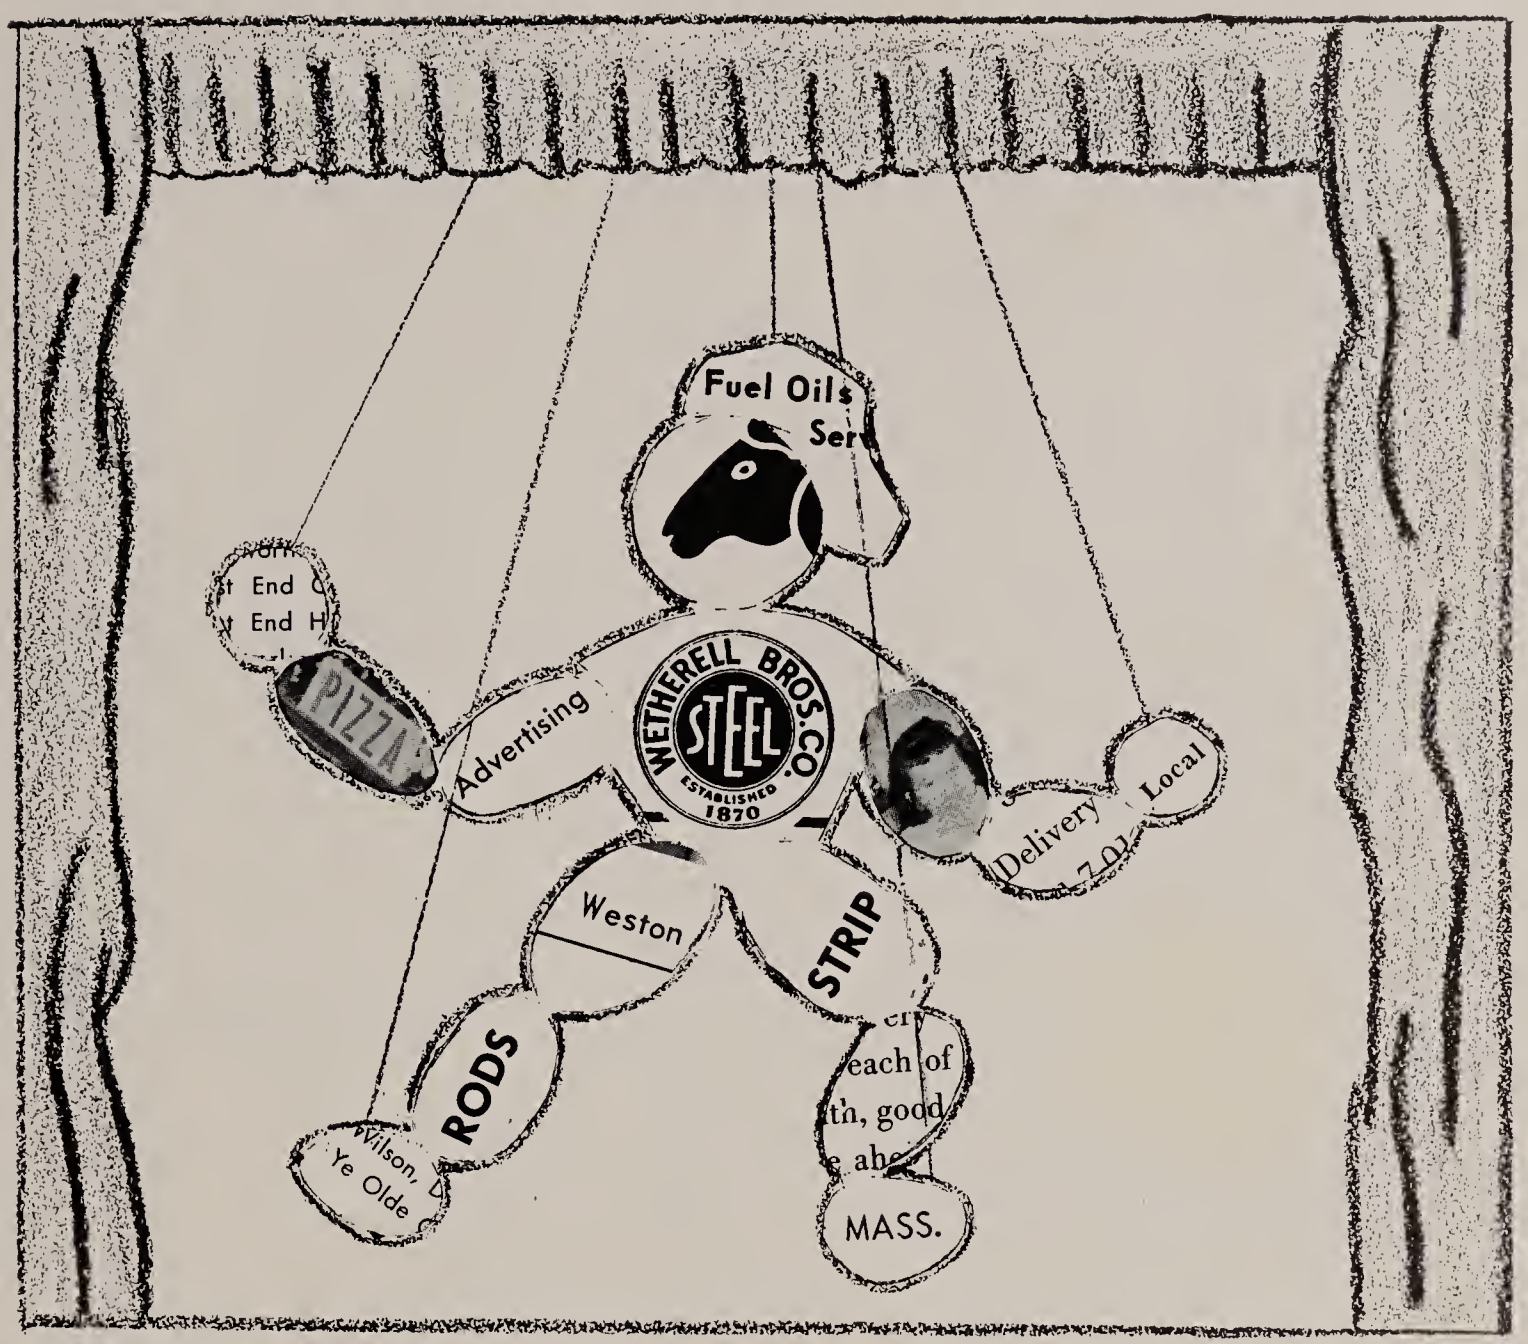
At noon luncheon was served in the cafeteria, with Mr. Arthur Sperry, vice president and general manager of Vectron, as the after-dinner speaker. He spoke on "What Does Industry Look for in Its Scientists."

In the afternoon many unable to come earlier were present to attend the discussion groups held in various classrooms, choosing from the following interesting topics: Aeronautics, led by Mr. Sture Blom; Biochemistry, led by Mr. Robert Larsen; Electronics, led by Mr. Herbert Oram and Mr. William Lamb; Hexaflexagons, led by Henry Lehne; and Medicine, led by Robert J. MacMillan M.D. A Geology field trip to Weston seismological observatory at Weston College and a Board meeting were also included in the afternoon program.

Interesting highlights make top billing on the program of the years events

This year a new contest, sponsored by the Weston Rotary Club, has given high school seniors a chance to win a $300 scholarship. On February 21, eleven students gave impressive three-minute talks before the entire student body. The subject "What I Want Out of Life" was announced only twenty-five minutes beforehand. The Rotary Club members present were, at the left below, Representative J. Robert Ayers and Mr. Harry Patterson; at the right, Mr. Richard Crouch and Mr. Murray Burke, president. In the center are Mr. John W. Zorn, Director of Speech and Mr. Julius Mueller, principal of Weston High.

The finalists include, seated from left to right, Michael Leithead, Henry Lehne, Thomas Clarke, Joan Walker, Judith Sherman and Marilyn Swanson. At a later date, these six contestants will again compete, where judges selected by the Rotary will make the final decision.



We sought advertising from door-step to door,
And prayed that our patrons would not be too poor
To give their support which we needed so badly,
To complete yearbook pages on which we worked madly.
So look here, you people, all lasses and lads,
With thanks, we present these pages of ads.
